

PERSHING USING PART OF MEXICAN RAILROAD

GENERAL FUNSTON RECEIVES REPORT FROM UNOFFICIAL SOURCE

Information is Included in Story of Overturning of of Two Cars and Injuring of Ten Troopers of the Tenth Cavalry—Despatches From Front
Indicate Villa Is Not Far Ahead of Pursuers

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Mar. 28.

Confirmation that General Pershing already has been using a portion of the Northwestern railroad for transportation of troops was obtained by General Funston today from what was said to be an unofficial source. This information included a report of the overturning of two cars and the injuring of ten troopers of the Tenth Cavalry and several horses. Three of the men were reported seriously injured.

Cars Roll Down Embankment.

The accident occurred while the cars were being taken over a temporary track which had been built around the Cumbre tunnel south of Casas Grandes. One of the rails gave way and the cars rolled down an embankment. It was not believed at headquarters that General Pershing's use of the railroad prior to receipt of permission from the Carranza government would endanger the negotiations now being conducted by the state department because it was assumed he had gained permission of those in charge of operations of that section of the line.

No reports from General Pershing were received today but his silence caused no uneasiness at headquarters where the chief concern continued to be the problem of getting supplies into Mexico without a railroad.

Advices from Washington that the state department prepared a memorandum urging Carranza to decide the question of using the railroad without waiting for the ratification of the protocol revived the hope that perhaps by Thursday the stores held at El Paso may be forwarded to some field depot more accessible to the troops now operating almost 300 miles from the boundary line.

Exactly where Colonel Dodd's cavalry now is, or into how many detachments it has been divided was unknown at General Funston's headquarters today. The exact whereabouts of General Pershing also remained unreported, but this lack of information created no uneasiness, for General Pershing still has orders to work out his own problems. Full realization of the danger into which some of the advanced detachments must be moving was acknowledged.

May Catch Troops in Trap.
Villa's known ability as a director of ambushes has aroused frankness from many officers, that he may catch some of the American troops in a mountain trap.

Unless checked by the forces of the de facto government, or unless he himself decides to turn at right angles, there appeared no reason today why the chase should cease until Villa has led the Americans thru twisting mountain trails and over waterless wastes for another 300 miles and more.

More auto trucks have been asked for by General Funston and when they are placed in service, there will be a few more than 300 along the different lines of communication. This increased number of auto trucks will not solve the problem of distributing supplies to the advanced troops, however, since a larger part of the troops are operating far away from trails over which the cars can be run.

The shifting lines of the chase Villa is leading the pursuing Americans has made more apparent the desirability of getting permission to use the Juarez-Chihuahua line of the National, as well as the Northwestern railway, but General Funston has refrained from making any representations on the subject preferring not to interject a possible embarrassing feature in the negotiations already under way for the other line.

It was pointed out that supplies routed thru Chihuahua could be delivered to the advanced troops with less loss of time and cost a line of communication established along that can be guarded with fewer troops than one along the more circuitous, mountainous route of the Northwestern.

May Raise Vehement Protest.

If either railroad is used, it is probable all the troops now extending from Columbus thru Casas Grandes to the positions of the advanced cavalry will be moved eastward along the new route and that those who then would be necessary to guard the main line of communication will be moved forward to join in the operations against Villa. It is expected that in such case however, a vehement protest will be made by Americans residing in the vicinity of Casas Grandes, who General Pershing reported, looked upon the American soldiers as their "rescuers."

Army officers have pointed out, however, that to hold any of the troops in these regions merely for the purpose of affording Americans protection would not be in accordance with the idea that the expedition into Mexico is nothing more than punitive.

Not Far Ahead of Pursuers.

El Paso, Texas, Mar. 28.—Despatches from the front interpreted in connection with news brought by Americans returning from different points in the interior of Chihuahua, caused a belief here tonight that Francisco Villa was headed for San Andres, about 25 miles southwest of Chihuahua City, a favorite headquarters of the bandit. He is thought to be already not less than fifty miles ahead of his pursuers and possibly leading the chase a much greater distance.

There are several Americans in El Paso who are not only thoroughly familiar with the country thru which Villa is fleeing but who also were well acquainted with the bandit chief in former days. They are agreed that Villa's objective is the district around Parral and south from there to Torreon in which territory numerous Villistas bands under the leadership of Canuto Rayon, are operating with considerable success.

If Villa is able to effect a junction with Reyes the problem of his extermination will have become a very serious one as he will then be able to control several thousand soldiers, who, divided into guerrilla bands, might be able to keep up a desultory mountain warfare for an unlimited period.

The one hope at present is that the American cavalrymen may be able to catch up with Villa before he gets much farther south. It is admitted here that the hope is a very slender one and especially if the American troops are prevented from using the Mexican railroads.

The supplies question overshadowed everything else now. Army officers here say that upon its solution depends every chance of a successful termination of the pursuit of the punitive expedition.

Plans to Establish Great Base.

In the passes and dim trails of the great continental divide, over which Villa now is fleeing, motor transportation practically is impossible, according to men who know the country. Nothing but pack mules and horses can be used and even these must be loaded lightly. The establishment of a great base of supplies and munitions near these tortuous mountain ranges is understood to be General Pershing's plan, but the maintenance of this base is considered an impossibility without railroad facilities on the backward trail to the United States border.

As far as the border is concerned, conditions seem to have settled down to a condition of absolute stagnation. Considerable excitement was caused early today by a report that Mexicans had crossed the Rio Grande at a point thirty-two miles east of here and attempted a raid on the ranch of C. E. Kelley, former mayor of El Paso. Troops were rushed to the scene, but after many hours of search they returned with the report that no evidence of raiders had been found and that they believed the story was due to the overwrought nerves of a woman.

To Press Carranza for Railways.

Washington, March 28.—Diplomatic and domestic aspects of the Mexican problem overshadowed its military side here tonight. Official reports from General Funston disclosed no change in the situation on the border or in Mexico. Congress rushed thru an emergency appropriation of $8,611,502 to pay for the pursuit of the bandits and the state department prepared to press General Carranza for permission to use Mexican railways to solve the troop supply problem.

Fears expressed in press reports from the border that failure to obtain use of the railroads might seriously hamper the pursuit of Villa were not reflected at either the state or war departments. Senator Gallinger, Republican leader in the senate, presented to Secretary Baker a telegram from Senator Hall at El

ATTACK CHARACTER OF COMPLAINING WITNESS

MEN ARE CALLED TO REFUTE TESTIMONY OF ADA M. COX

Edwards Takes Stand and Denies Many Important Statements Made by Miss Cox—Denies He Practiced Any Seduction.

Chicago, Mar. 28.—Ada M. Cox, complaining witness in the Mann act case against William Rufus Edwards, wealthy lumberman of St. Paul, was under severe attack today as to her character up to and including the time she met Edwards in June, 1910.

Miss Cox in her testimony yesterday stated that Edwards was her first lover. Today men who said they had known her at Rockford, Ill., Boston, New York, Rochester, Madison, Milwaukee and Indianapolis were called upon to refute this testimony.

Chief among them were William S. Mears and Willard G. Carmichael. Mears told to living with her in New York and Carmichael testified that she had accompanied him as his wife to hotels in various cities.

The defendant himself took the stand and denied many important statements made by Miss Cox. In effect he denied that he practiced any seduction.

Edwards stated that he deliberately sought the acquaintance of Miss Cox to get business secrets concerning her employer. The employer was W. E. Mogg of Chicago. Mogg, Edwards said, took Miss Cox and he took a Miss Galloway to the theater and to supper when they first became acquainted. Two days later chatting in Mogg's office with Miss Cox, Edwards said that Miss Cox mentioned that a Miss Vogt was on a pleasure trip to St. Paul.

"Turn about is fair play, why can't I go to St. Paul," Edwards quoted Miss Cox as saying. "Sure I said, I wanted to get in her confidence to get information about Mogg's office."

On the train to St. Paul Edwards testified that Miss Cox's actions were suggestive and that at no time thereafter did she protest against the things of which the Mann act charge is based.

FIRST OF DEFENSE MEASURES BEFORE SENATE FOR DEBATE

WASHINGTON, March 28.—The first of the national defense measures got before the senate for general debate today when the army reorganization bill was made the unfinished business. Debate on the bill reported as a substitute for the army measure, passed by the house will begin tomorrow.

Senator Chamberlain, chairman of the military committee, will open debate on the bill with a detailed explanation of its provisions. There are some features of the house bill, particularly those relating to the militia, that may be incorporated in the senate measure, before a vote is reached in the opinion of some Democratic leaders. Under the Chamberlain bill the authorized peace strength of the regular army would be about 174,789 men, an approximate increase of 75,000 over the present peace strength and of 40,000 over the total proposed in the house bill.

QUESTION FORGAN CONCERNING [DETAILS OF BANK MANAGEMENT]

CHICAGO, Mar. 28.—James B. Forgan, chairman of the board of directors of the First National Bank witness in the trial of William Lorimer on a charge of conspiracy to defraud the LaSalle Street Trust & Savings Bank of which he was president, was questioned today by counsel for Mr. Lorimer concerning the details of banks and bank management.

In his first question on cross-examination, Albert Fink, counsel for Mr. Lorimer put it squarely to the witness whether he had not decided to "eliminate" the LaSalle Street National Bank.

"Mr. Forgan," the attorney began "in my opening statement, I said you were a great man, much after the fashion of J. P. Morgan and that rightly or wrongly you got the idea that the LaSalle Street National Bank would not be a help to the business of Chicago and that you decided to eliminate it before it did any harm. Now tell us frankly if you did not have such a motive?"

"I may have. It might have been that," was Mr. Forgan's reply.

DUNNE POSTPONES ACTION.

Donnelly was promptly re-arrested on a fugitive warrant.

WAITE INDICATES DUAL PERSONALITY

Believes Wicked One Impelled Him to Murder Peck and Wife

SWANN NOT SATISFIED

District Attorney Believes Waite is Paving Way to Introduce an Insanity Defense

OBTAIN ADDITIONAL EVIDENCE

NEW YORK, Mar. 28.—Statements indicating that he believed he was possessed of a dual personality the wicked one of which impelled him to murder John E. Peck, of Grand Rapids, his wealthy father in law and Mrs. Peck were made by Dr. Arthur Warren Waite to District Attorney Edward Swann and a detective tonight.

Waite, still in bed at Bellevue hospital, where he is under arrest charged with the murder of Peck when asked by Mr. Swann if he wished to make any statement, passed one hand over his eyes and answered vaguely:

"Oh, its all over. He did it. This little bad man whom I haven't been able to get rid of until now—he did it all. Clara (Mrs. Waite) knows how I have tried to get rid of him. I don't know who he was—he told me he came from Egypt."

Tells Story to Detective.

Roy W. Schindler, a detective who visited Waite just before Mr. Swann arrived, declared the young dentist told him about the dual personality asserting that he sometimes was so obsessed by the "bad man" that he would run around in the park to throw off the inclination to do evil. According to Schindler, Waite told him he administered live bacilli of various diseases to Mrs. Peck, but they did not act as quickly as he expected. He said also, the detective averred, that he fed germs to Peck, but when the results appeared to be unsatisfactory he gave arsenic to his father-in-law. Both Peck and Mrs. Peck died at Waite's apartments here, Mrs. Peck on January 30th, and her husband on March 12th.

Autopsies on the body of Peck disclosed quantities of arsenic. Mrs. Peck's body was cremated.

Three assistant district attorneys, as well as an attorney engaged today for Waite, were in the room when Waite made the statements about the dual personality. Mr. Swann said that Waite, who appeared to have recovered almost completely from the effects of the drugs he took Friday seemed to be more coherent and rational tonight. He appeared at first not to recognize his visitors and when he spoke seemed to be addressing no one in particular.

Mr. Swann said he was not satisfied with Waite's statements. He said he did not regard them as constituting a complete confession and indicated that Waite and his counsel were paving the way to introduce an insanity defense.

Additional evidence regarding Waite's alleged activities with germs was obtained today by the district attorney's office. Mr. Swann said he had found that Waite, thru intermediaries who sometimes represented themselves as reputable physicians, obtained from the Rockefeller Foundation for medical research, Bellevue hospital and Willard Parker hospital for infectious diseases as well as the Cornell Medical school, live bacilli of typhoid, pneumonia, diphtheria and influenza. He also obtained germs from drug manufacturers in Detroit, the district attorney said, by using letter heads of physicians.

Another development announced at the district attorney's office today was that Waite on Monday, March 20th, before he was arrested drew a check for $9,306 which he had on deposit in a local bank. This check is in the possession of Mr. Swann and a subpoena has been issued for the person to whom the money was turned over, but whose identity has not been disclosed.

Mrs. Margaret Weaver Horton, who shared a "studio" with Waite at a hotel here, was questioned at the district attorney's office the greater part of the day and her own bank account and that of her husband, Harry Mack Horton, were examined. Horton said that about $8,000 which was deposited in his account during the year, was obtained thru the sale of wireless apparatus to the Mexican government. Mrs. Horton declared her acquaintance with Waite was "just an innocent flirtation."

WAITRESS CONFESSES TO FIRING APARTMENTS

FEARED SHE WOULD BE FORCED INTO WHITE SLAVERY

Two Persons Are Dead and Eighteen Injured in Fire—Girl Is Charged with Manslaughter and Arson—Two Others Are Arrested.

Cleveland, O., March 28.—As the result of the confession of Bessie Weemers, 18, waitress, that driven by fear she would be forced into white slavery, she set fire to the Foster apartments this morning, causing the death of two persons and injury to eighteen, the girl was arrested today on the charge of manslaughter and arson.

George Hanson, waiter, 25, and George Bauman, 26, also were arrested on the charge of being suspicious persons, pending a further investigation by the police.

In her signed confession the girl said she was driven to desperation by Hanson and his associates who she said wanted her to become a white slave. As a result of a police raid on the Foster apartments last week, in which she was innocently involved, she sought death as a means of evading Hanson and his temptations. The girl admitted that Monday morning she set fire to her bed in an effort to commit suicide but was rescued by firemen. This morning she turned on two gas jets without lighting them, bound her ankles and gagged herself so she could not make an alarm and then waited for death. A small stove which was lighted ignited the gas and started the fatal fire, she said.

She was badly burned about the shoulders before she was rescued.

Police are investigating the activities of Hanson and Bauman and expected that other arrests would be made.

EFFORT TO BREAK FRENCH LINES FAILS

German Attempts Are Put Down By Curtain of Fire from French Guns

RUSS SUFFER HEAVILY

Berlin Reports that Onslaughts of Russians Against German Lines Have Been Withstood

TWO ADDITIONAL SHIPS SUNK

Another determined effort by the Germans to break thru the French lines northwest of Verdun has resulted in failure, and with heavy losses to the Germans.

After days of intense artillery preparation for another effort to lessen the six miles intervening between them and the Paris-Verdun railway and the nine miles still between them and Verdun the Germans launched a great infantry attack on the Haucourt-Bethincourt sector. In successive waves the Germans were thrown into the fray, but all of their attempts were put down by the curtain of fire of the French guns and fire of the French infantry. There still is an intermittent bombardment going on northeast of Verdun and in the Woivre region the French have been shelling German positions. In the Argonne they are giving the German lines no rest, while in the Vosges the artillery action has been marked on both sides. On the British front in the St. Etloi sector, the Germans opened a heavy artillery fire on the British forces, holding the ground gained by them Monday. The British artillery replied effectively and according to the British official statement these positions still are in the hands of the British.

In the Postavy region of the Russian front Berlin reports that the onslaughts of the Russians against the German lines have been withstood and that the attacking forces have suffered heavy casualties.

A semi-official despatch from Berlin says the Russians have attacked in their new offensive over a front of 120 kilometers and that their losses have been not less than 80,000 men.

Heavy Italian bombardments of Austrian positions on the Doderdo Heights and along the Isonzo continue.

A German air squadron has dropped bombs on the harbor works at Saloniki and the entente allied encampment north of Saloniki.

A German torpedo boat destroyer was rammed and sunk by the British light cruiser Cleopatra in the recent engagement off the German coast. There were no German survivors.

Two additional steamers have been sent to the bottom, the Eagle Point, a British vessel, presumably by a torpedo and the Harriet, a Danish vessel by a mine.

The unity and solidarity of the entente allies and the decision "to continue the struggle to victory for the common cause" were reaffirmed in resolutions passed by the conference of the allies in Paris.

A Republican Year.

Fifteen cities in Maine have lately held municipal elections in which party lines were drawn. Eleven of them chose Republican mayors—and the vote showed once more that the victorious party has reunited its forces. Every test thus far taken in normal Republican territory has resulted similarly. This is a Republican year.

The Home Paper.

Scores of local people interested in sports hurried to buy Chicago papers Sunday in order to read more details of the Willard-Moran fight than appeared in the Journal. They were doomed to disappointment for the papers did not have a line about the big contest. Many people overlooked the fact that Chicago morning papers are mailed there before ten o'clock at night and so do not contain the late news. The Journal receives telegraphic news until 2:30 each morning and the wire is held until a later time if anything special is in prospect. It's worth remembering that the home newspaper gives later news than the city press.

The Living Fire.

From the Boston Herald.
A Missouri newspaper tells of a fire on the hearthstone of a humble home in Livingston county that has not been out for eighty years. When the builder of that home, with his girl bride, left Kentucky to settle in the Missouri wilderness in 1836, he took along coals from the home fireplace, carrying them in an iron pot slung from the wagon axle. Matches were unknown, and the method of getting sparks from flint and steel on dry punk was very uncertain while traveling into a new country. He kept alive the coals in the iron pot through the long journey and then transferred the fire to the hearth of the rude cabin. There his children and his children's children grew up and studied and loved and died in the warmth and light, of the transferred, everlasting fire.

It is a theme for a poet a subject for a chapter in the wonderful story of holy fires and sacred flames. For fire is more than a thing to warm a habitation or to cook meals by. It is a symbol. Perhaps it is more than a coincidence that the passing of the hearthstones of our fathers and the supplanting of the carefully cherished fires on them by radiators and pipes have been accompanied by changes in the character of our American home life. PAYING BILLS.

There's nothing more pleasant than paying your bills, than paying your bills at the time when they're due; it sends thru your heart most enjoyable thrills, to know that there's nothing charged up against you. You're making the wheels of your village go round, you're giving the workers the best kind of aid, when you dig from your wallet the shilling and pound, and pay up your bills in the palace of trade. You're filling the soul of the merchant with glee, you're bidding the banker to weep never more, you're hanging new wreaths on your family tree, when you pay up your bills at the doctory store. That man is a hindrance and hurt to his town, a brake on the wheels of his own neighborhood, who views the collector with withering frown, who doesn't pay up when the paying is good.

our homes have the living fires on the hearth and all that it symbolizes of continuity and warmth and cheer in the family. Will another generation light it and guard it again?

Young Men and Possibilities.

There was inspiration in the gathering of young men assembled last night to join in efforts for the upbuilding of local interests. The speakers rightly pointed out that the world belongs to the young men and that the opportunities for accomplishing great things for themselves as well as the community lie very near them and await only business acumen and industry.

There is nothing more contagious than optimism and "boosting" is but another name for optimism. That city where an optimistic spirit prevails is bound to grow because people will want to live there and because prosperity moves along with cheerfulness. A happy community is a busy community and when you have everybody working and in a good humor about it there progress is certain.

Young men go away from Jacksonville to Chicago or New York and possibly get hold of clerkships that merely pay them a living. It sounds well to say that the home town is too slow for them and they go to the big cities, but in a majority of cases they are not forging ahead nearly as surely as those who have remained at home and made earnest endeavor to progress.

Many are the men old and young who have started away from Jacksonville intent on gaining fame and fortune elsewhere who have a little later been mighty glad to come back "home" and have henceforth held much higher ideas about the worth of this community. Jacksonville is surely a good place to live and there are chances here for money making. All that remains is to have the ability to see the chances and the industry to embrace them.

Facts for Farmers.

Before casting their ballots this fall producers of meat and dairy products would do well to consider economic questions and not permit preparedness and foreign policies to engross their whole attention. A Republican Administration can take care of these latter problems in a satisfactory manner, without wobbling all over the continent and can also establish and maintain economic policies that will promote and conserve the industrial interests of the people of the United States. The Democratic party has failed in handling all these governmental problems.

Producers of meat and dairy products should give special attention to economic policies because of the effect those policies have upon them and the industries in which they are engaged. The effects of the free trade policy during the first 10 months operation of the Underwood tariff law, when there was no war to complicate trade, will startle those who have not studied the facts.

From October, 1912, to July, 1913 inclusive, 10 months under the Republican tariff law, our imports of meat and dairy products amounted to $12,460,501, on which duty was assessed at a rate which provided a goodly revenue to the Government.

The Underwood law became effective October 4, 1913, and from that time up to August 1, 1914, when war in Europe broke out, our imports of these products amounted to $46,545,512, an increase of over 225 per cent and not a cent of revenue was realized thereon.

In the 10 months from October, 1914, to July, 1915, a war period, with Argentina, Canada, Australia, Bermuda and other countries sending large shipments of these products to the belligerents, our imports amounted to $39,421,210, an increase of 145 per cent over 1913. While it is true that good prices were the rule it was because the war held up the prices. When the war is over, if we should still be cursed with a Democratic Administration, the free trade market of the United States will again prove an inviting field for our competitors, and, as there will be no abnormal condition to inflate prices, the American producer must suffer the effects of unbridled foreign competition.

YOUNG MEN WILL BOOST FOR CITY

ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING LAST NIGHT GAVE PROMISE OF USEFUL ACTIVITIES.

Addresses Made by Well Known Citizens Pointed to Great Opportunity for Work—Chances for Success Here—Officers of the Club Elected.

The special meeting planned by the Young Men's Booster club of the Chamber of Commerce was held Tuesday night at the Peacock Inn. It was an occasion of more than usual interest and attendance was not limited to the young men who belong to the organization. H. Jay Rodgers, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, called the assemblage to order and George Vasconcellos was elected chairman. The speakers of the evening included Mayor H. J. Rodgers, Frank J. Heim, M. F. Dunlap, H. P. Samuels and H. J. Robinson of the Sheldon school.

A letter was read from John J. Reeve, president of the Chamber of Commerce, who was unable to attend. The trend of the addresses made was to emphasize the truth that young men have great opportunities of accomplishment and that optimism is in some measure a matter of contagion. The development of a community spirit of boosting is a great asset for a city or a town, and in many instances forms the real basis for its business development.

After the addresses had been made a business session was held when the nominating committee, which consisted of Carl Weber, C. M. Bell, Rev. W. E. Spoonst, Harry Obermeyer and A. L. Henderson, made a report suggesting as officers, president—George W. Vasconcellos; vice president—John W. Larson; secretary—E. V. Bassett. These young men were then elected by unanimous vote.

The Knockor and the Booster.

Mayor Rodgers in his brief talk compared knocking and boosting methods in city development and showed how much of a detriment the knockor is and of how much aid is the booster, who continually sees good in his surroundings and has hope of the future. The mayor referred to the great value that young men can be in the business life of the city, saying that only a few years measure the time of development between the small boy and the big boy and that if right characteristics are encouraged and the right lines of activity followed, that the space between the big boy and the man of affairs is not greater than between the lad and the age of maturity.

Mayor Rodgers concluded his remarks with a quotation which has been painted across the entire front of a big market building in Springfield, Mass., under the caption, "Knocker vs. Booster."

"Someone has said that when the Creator had made all the good things there still remained some work to do. So He made beasts and reptiles and poisonous insects and when He had finished there were some scraps left, so He put all these together, covered it with suspicion, wrapped it with jealousy, marked it with a yellow streak and called it a knocker."

"This product was so fearful to contemplate that He had to make something to counteract it. So He took the sunbeam, put in it the heart of a child, the brain of a man, wrapped these in civic pride, covered it with brotherly love, gave it a mask of velvet and a grasp of steel and called it a booster. Made him a lover of field and flowers and manly sports, a believer in equality and justice, and ever since these two were, mortal man has had the privilege of choosing his own associates."

Good Roads and Business.

Frank J. Heim's theme was "Good Roads as Business Getters," and he pointed out in a very logical way how close is the relationship between good roads and business, indicating especially the great economic loss which results because roads are not in more passable condition for the transportation of freight. As an example of the cost of bad roads to the consumer, he referred to shipments of apples from Pike county, showing that if there were good roads at all times between this locality and Pike county, that apples grown in the orchards there would be brought direct to this market, instead of being hauled to the railroad station, transferred to Chicago, thence to cold storage, later taken out of cold storage and sold by the jobber to the wholesaler then conveyed to the retailer and finally reaching the seller of the consumer. Some extracts from Mr. Heim's remarks appear on another page.

Possibilities for Young Men.

M. F. Dunlap was the next speaker and his subject was, "The Young Man in the Chamber of Commerce." Mr. Dunlap said that his hearers should by no means consider that they were in the kindergarten class but in fact represented the real strength of the Chamber of Commerce. He then went on to say that the business world today gives ample proof of what a young man may accomplish, and he said further that in the world of achievements the records show that in a great majority of cases those who have accomplished much did so before they had passed the meridian of life. Speaking of Jacksonville and the value of young men in business, Mr. Dunlap referred to the career of W.

Why Batteries Don't Last Forever

After repeated inquiries as to what the life of a storage battery should be, the subject has been covered in brief by the Willard Storage Battery Company of Cleveland. They contend first of all that its life depends upon its construction, its care and the service it receives.

"Take all together, a storage battery well-cared for costs less to maintain than any other, accessory as vital. If kept charged at proper rate and filled with pure water, the life of a first-class battery averages from 1 1/2 years up.

"At the same time, a battery, however well made and well cared for, will wear out and must be renewed. It is an electrochemical apparatus constantly changing its condition to supply current for lamps and starter. The better the materials, care and factory service, the longer its life. Some motorists believe a battery should last indefinitely like a spring or an axle, but this belief is being overcome by the educational measures of progressive manufacturers who want their customers to know why certain facts are facts."

The Willard Company has done much along these lines and the result is evident in the better care batteries are receiving everywhere.

IRON CLAW WARDROBE PRODUCED AT GREAT EXPENSE

Pathe Company Did Not Spare Money in Preparing for Great Screen Serial—Begins at Scott's Saturday.

Pearl White, the daring heroine of "The Perils of Pauline" and "The Exploits of Elaine," who is now starring in "The Iron Claw," the new Pathe serial which is to begin at Scott's Saturday, has been equipped with no less than thirty-four gowns, thirteen suits, eleven cloaks and coats, innumerable hats and other accessories costing the Pathe company $25,000, a record sum even in these days of extravagantly produced screen plays. Miss White declares she will do better work in "The Iron Claw" than in any of her previous successes. "To be well dressed is half the battle," she says, "and I know I can take care of the other half."

One of the most striking of Miss White's gowns is one of sapphire blue sequins on shaded green and blue chiffon, bound at the edges with silver ribbon and trimmed with small silver balls. The skirt is of sequins, finished with an eight-inch flounce of blue net and hemstitched in silver. The bodice is of sequins with draped tulle sleeves. This creation cost $1,000 and while wearing it Miss White is required to struggle with the villain down a flight of stairs. Ten dollars should be a good price for it after the "take."

Another sartorial triumph is an afternoon gown of dark blue George crepe trimmed with ruffles of old blue taffeta and dark blue ribbon. French rosettes of dark blue and silver tassels provide a further trimming for the bodice which has a deep white chiffon collar, trimmed with Krimmer fur.

A sapphire blue chiffon velvet evening coat, worn by the peerless Pathe star in another episode, should make the fair members of the audience gasp at its gorgeousness. It is trimmed with solid gold ornaments set with jet. Another masterpiece of the modiste is a Russian dark blue chiffon velvet suit with a cape edged with Krimmer fur and collar and cuffs of the same material.

MORTUARY

Livingston.

Joseph Livingston, a former resident of Jacksonville died at his home in Chicago yesterday. Mr. Livingston was 71 years of age and was born in Pennsylvania. He was a veteran of the civil war. Shortly after the war he came to Illinois and lived in Jacksonville. He was united in marriage in this city to Miss Fannie Buckingham. He was for a time engaged in the confectionery business on West State street. When the Gallaher block was erected P. A. Bartlett leased the westroom now occupied by John Reynolds' undertaking parlors. Later he sold out to Livingston & Pomeroy, who conducted the business for some time. Mr. Pomeroy had lost one arm below the elbow and often used to amuse and even annoy the boys by showing them how hard he could strike them with the end of the stump. When he left Jacksonville he went to Chicago and entered the railroad business. For many years he was a conductor between Chicago and Duluth and also was a conductor in the south.

The remains arrived here on the 3:28 Chicago and Alton train this morning and were taken to the undertaking parlors of W. W. Gillham. Services were held in Chicago and no services will be held in this city.

King.

Charles King, son of Mr. and Mrs. Austin King, died Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at his home, 847 South Main street. He was 17 years old and was a student of Jacksonville high school. Death was caused by endocarditis, terminating an illness of six weeks. Besides the parents there survive three brothers and a sister. The deceased was reared northeast of the city and removed with his parents to Jacksonville in the fall of last year. He was a young man of fine character and his young death brings a life of promise to an untimely close.

Announcement of funeral arrangements will be made later.

Gums shrinking? Danger ahead!

Go now to a mirror and examine your mouth? Do your gums look "rinsed out," shrunken? Do you see a jagged appearance in the gum-line?

If so, see your dentist. He will tell you that you have pyorrhea, and that to save your teeth you will have to fight this dread disease at once.

From pyorrhea come by far the greater part of all tooth troubles. Unless treated and checked, it will result not only in the shrinking and malformation of your gums and of the bony structure into which your teeth are set, but in the loss of the teeth themselves.

A specific for pyorrhea has been discovered recently by dental science, and is now offered for daily treatment in Senreco Tooth Paste. Senreco combats the germ of the disease. Its regular use insures your teeth against the attack or further progress of pyorrhea.

But Senreco does more. It cleanses the teeth delightfully. It gives them a whiteness distinctive of Senreco alone. Its flavor is entirely pleasing, and it leaves in the mouth a wonderful sense of coolness and wholesomeness.

Start the Senreco treatment before pyorrhea grips you for good. Details in folder with every tube. A two-ounce tube for 25c is sufficient for 6 weeks' daily treatment. PERSHING USING PART
OF MEXICAN RAILROAD

Paso dealing with the railway and border questions. It declared shipments of gasoline intended for the American forces in Mexico were being held up by Carranza officials.

"The department's dispatches of last night and today, while meager and dealing with technical matters, indicate continued and growing good will toward our expedition in Mexico," Secretary Baker said later in the statement. "Its object appears to be thoroughly understood by the people of Mexico. We have no dispatches indicating cause for apprehension."

Instructions Go Forward.

The communication to General Carranza will be made thru Special Representative Rodgers at Queretaro, to whom instructions went forward tonight. State department officials said that it seemed necessary to impress upon the de facto government the need for special consideration of the request to use the lines south from the border without awaiting the perfecting of the protocol under negotiation. While there was no question but that the expedition after Villa would press on, it was stated, and that a sufficient amount of supplies could be furnished to the troops by rail or truck trains, general use of the lines would greatly simplify matters. News dispatches from the border tonight indicating that the American troops already were using the railroad lines in some sections were read with surprise at the war department, officials declaring there had been no official advice to that effect. It was thought that if the American commanders had used the lines in some cases on their own initiative it probably was done in co-operation with the local Carranza authorities. Officials do not think any extensive use of railroads has been made. There are indications that the check in the protocol negotiations resulting from General Carranza's counter proposals may extend that discussion a week or more.

Suggestions Cause Study.

General Carranza's suggestions as to the details of the protocol apparently are causing serious study at the state department. While officials are reticent, it is understood, the most important suggestion deals with the territory to be embraced within the scope of the agreement. It is thought possible General Carranza desires to set narrower limits than has been agreed upon by the Mexican ambassador-designate and the state department in the original draft. Some officials think the first chief might be unwilling to have disclosed just how far the American forces have penetrated or may penetrate into his country to carry out their mission.

It was indicated that General Carranza's proposals showed no desire to exclude the expedition from use of the Mexican railways. On the contrary, the protocol would establish a definite agreement for just that purpose. This may take some time to reach its final form. Washington officials determined to press for the much more limited permission asked for by General Funston. The latter would apply only to specific roads and towns, while the general agreement of the protocol would cover all rail and other transportation lines within the territory embraced in the understanding.

Raise No Objections to Motors.

Secretary Baker was emphatic today in saying no objection to the use of motor truck trains to supply the troops had been raised by Mexican officials.

With the $8,000,000 emergency appropriation available the department will be able to carry out this plan for establishing a complete independent supply system for the troops at the front, regardless of what may be the result of diplomatic negotiations over the railroads.

General Funston's reports have not shown the supply situation to be serious at present but with as many additional truck trains as he may require, the department believes will be able to keep supplies moving forward steadily.

The aeroplane situation also will be relieved in the near future now that the war department has funds to call upon. Representatives of various aeroplane manufacturers were in conferences with war department officials again during the day. The machines purchased will be of sufficient size and power to carry two persons and a supply of fuel to last four hours. It was indicated that with these conditions met, early deliveries would have an influence in awarding orders.

Another matter under discussion which may be put thru at once is that of building a chain of three high power radio stations along the border to provide for continuous communication night and day. The army now has a 250 kilowatt station at San Antonio and the construction of two more, one at El Paso and one at Fort Huachuca, Arizona, has been recommended. It is possible that some army plant elsewhere in the United States may be moved to the border for this purpose. With the high power stations it would be possible, signal officers say to reach the field sets of the troops for south in Mexico at any time. The lower power field equipment would not be able however to reach the border stations except under favorable conditions. The San Antonio plant now is able to talk with Omaha direct.

Dwell on Lack of Excitement.

Official reports from consuls in Mexico again today dwell on the lack of popular excitement there over the entry of American troops. Consul Letcher, at Chihuahua City, sent the following:

"Governor Enriquez published yesterday (March 26th) address to Chihuahua Citizens recounting circumstances of the Columbus incident and American expedition consequent thereupon and calling upon their patriotism to remain calm and give Mexican government fullest support in present crisis. This address in my opinion will have favorable effect locally in view of frequent publication at border of alarming reports regarding conditions here. Repeated advices already given that public continue to deport themselves with commendable poise and self control. Under these circumstances it appears most regrettable that border news agencies should continue to impute to authorities and people here actions contrary to foregoing facts."

The following paraphrase of an official telegram from Douglas also was made public:

"I have made an investigation of the statements telegraphed from here to the effect that there has been a concentration of Mexican troops at Agua Prieta opposite Douglas. I saw General Calles in command of the forces of the de facto government who gave me permission to investigate personally. I found 400 men in Agua Prieta, but saw no artillery. I found all trench wires removed, no troops in any trenches and no troops on any side of Agua Prieta."

"However, there are 4,000 at Cullulona, eighteen miles south. General Calles invites all citizens to make a personal investigation of this matter. Cochise county at present is very quiet."

"I also investigated the statement that there are 500 Villistas at Douglas. The report is absolutely untrue."

"A few United States troops even a squad in our outlying camps and towns would absolutely insure peace therein under present conditions."

Advices from Ciudad Juarez said the American forces in Mexico were "making a good impression on the Mexican populace in the districts thru which they pass."

Receives Messages From Border.

Late today republican senators received a number of messages from the border regarding the use of the railroads for properly supplying the American expedition.

Senator Gallinger, the republican leader, took the dispatches to the war department and soon after he had seen Secretary Baker a statement was issued saying the department "had no dispatches giving any causes for apprehension."

It was learned that a telegram from Senator Fall said that General Gaviro, the Carranza commander at Juarez, had refused to permit three tank carloads of gasoline ordered by two American brothers, who operate a store near Casas Grandes to be shipped over the Mexican railroad, on the ground that the fuel might be turned over to General Pershing's troops for operation of motor trucks of the army in transporting supplies.

General Pershing, according to the telegram, contracted with these brothers for flour, gasoline and other supplies and the three cars ordered from the United States were to replenish their stock. Senator Fall expressed great concern over the incident, and urged that the matter be taken up at the war department.

The senator's message also said there was great uneasiness in El Paso because of the large Mexican population in the city, among them many former Villa followers. An attack, he said, was not so much feared as incendiaryism. In El Paso he said, there were only three or four hundred soldiers, while directly across the Mexican border from 2,500 to 3,000 Carranza soldiers.

S. Hook, whom he was pleased to term the greatest business man that Jacksonville has ever produced. Mr. Hook began his business career without special advantages and by application to his work and development along various lines, later was in such position that he was able to enter the railroad business. There his fine executive ability found place, and thru his activity the old J. S. E. line was greatly extended and general business here felt the impulse of his genius. Everybody who wanted work had it. Real estate values advanced.

Along in 1893 thru no fault of his own, Mr. Hook met with business reverses. He went to California, saw the opportunity in Los Angeles for traction development and because of the reputation he had previously established and the general standing he had, was able to secure financial aid in Boston. So in a few years time it happened that he not only made good the losses in his railroad enterprise here but made large sums beside and speedily was ranked as a millionaire. The speaker impressed the value of character in a young man's life and said that a banker would much prefer to give assistance to a young man of known good habits and integrity altho without financial resources, than to some other young man of more ample means but of less stable character.

Then Mr. Dunlap referred to the advantages of Jacksonville and said that he would rather live in this city than any place that he knew of, and further that he had the utmost faith in the business opportunities that existed here for young men willing to devote themselves to work and who would follow the well established rules of business success.

What Boosting Does in West.

H. P. Samuell was introduced as a representative of the younger business men. Mr. Samuell referred to his experience at Three Forks, Mont., where he first went to practice law. He found it a city of six or seven hundred people, in the midst of an alkali desert, and his first inclination was to speedily take a train back to the home which he had left. But in the few hours before train time he met three or four citizens and each one of them talked so enthusiastically about the place in which they were living that he became imbued with the spirit and decided to remain. In two or three years' time the population had more than doubled and this growth, the speaker said, was the direct result of a booster spirit.

Mr. Samuell in emphasizing the value of co-operative work, referred to a statement by Henry George giving voice to the idea that not only is co-operative work necessary for real accomplishment, but that individual effort alone tends toward selfishness and to a dwarfing of the life and spirit.

Character Analysis.

The final speaker was H. J. Robinson of the Sheldon school whose theme was, "Character Analysis." Mr. Robinson talked in a very interesting way upon character analysis in its relationship to business. His address abounded in epigrammatic sentences which greatly interested his hearers. He classed men generally into doers and dreamers and divided them also as crawlers and climbers. The whole area of man he said is outlined by four things: ability, reliability, endurance and activity. These four characteristics measures the success of the man in business or in whatever line of work he may be engaged. Ability without reliability is as nothing, and many men who have achieved fame by middle life have left tasks unperformed because of their lack of endurance.

Another type of men have ability, reliability and endurance but not the energy which induces them to take an active part in the affairs of life. In emphasizing the idea that the greatest results come from co-operative effort, he told the story of Elbert Hubbard, whom he said was one day being escorted thru an insane asylum. Hubbard remarked to the guard, "What would happen to you if all these men should get together and attack you and your associates?" The guard's reply was, "Mr. Hubbard if these men had the ability to get together they wouldn't be here." So the speaker declared that sanity may be defined as the ability to get together. Then followed an analysis of salesmanship and it was pointed out that to the merchant it is of great value if he has the ability of reading his customer. Then various statements were made about the meaning which can be drawn from the features of men, and Harry Obermeyer and George Vasconcellos were brought from the audience and the speaker summed up their characteristics and abilities as he judged them from the general outline of their heads and faces.

Altogether the boosters meeting was one suggestive of the thought that the organization has taken on new life and is going forward into renewed useful activity. The list of members at present is as follows, and enrollments are coming in every day: Clifford Alves, H. D. Anderson, Wilford Ayers, E. V. Bassett, C. M. Bell, Walter Bellatti, Robt. M. Boyd, Frank F. Bracewell, C. J. Buhrer, P. C. Cherry, E. J. Christopher, George F. Coe, W. E. Day, Walter H. De Shara, Ralph I. Dunlap, G. Edmonds, Jr., Arthur G. Ellis, Earl N. Eppler, Paul J. Letter From Mr. Reeve.
Pres. Reeves of the Chamber of Commerce wrote the following letter of encouragement:
Mr. H. J. Rodgers,
Secretary of Chamber of Commerce,
City.

My Dear Jay.—
It is with sincere regret that I have to forego the pleasure of being present at the re-organization of the Young Men's Department of the Chamber of Commerce. I have been confined to my home since the 1st day of March and while I hope within a few days to be able to be out, yet it is somewhat uncertain and will depend largely upon developments in the next few days.

While I am deeply interested in every department of the Chamber of Commerce, I feel an especial interest in the department of young men. It is very clear to me that the time has come when the young men of this community must assume the responsibilities that have been carried by the older men in the immediate past. It always has been so, and is but the natural evolution of society, that the burden should shift step by step from the older to the younger and rising generation. While I speak of it as a burden, it should be more properly termed a pleasure for the young men to step forward and take charge of the interests of the community and thereby develop themselves and the community along the most modern lines. The expectations and hopes and desires, fed by the enthusiasm and young blood of the community are unquestionably the hope of any community.

One of the great issues of the day is "preparedness." The preparedness discussed at this time is from a military view point, but to my mind that is insignificant when compared with the all-around preparedness which is demanded by society of the young men and young women of the community, building up the community to exert every effort and expend its very best energies in making their community the best community and the most desirable community in the whole country.

I sincerely hope that the organization of the young men's department will have the effect of instilling into the young men of the community the true spirit of the community interests which will bring about the very best and highest results.

With best wishes, I am,
Very truly yours,
JOHN J. REEVE,
President, Chamber of Commerce.

BELGIAN HIKE FROM
MONTREAL TO BOSTON

Boston, Mar. 28.—In 21 days, Cornelius Yensen, a Belgian, walked from Montreal to Boston, covering some 300 miles, thru snow-covered country. After completing his unusual hike, Yensen was told he may have to leave the United States because of having arrived illegally. The young man's status has been investigated by the immigration authorities. Meanwhile he has been working in a hospital.

According to the Belgian's story, he walked instead of rode because of a misunderstanding at Montreal, where he tried to purchase a ticket. He was told he could not enter the United States without first getting permission. Yensen, who has an inadequate knowledge of English, thought they did not care to have him ride on the railroad. Thereupon he decided to walk. Lacking proof that the man knowingly evaded the immigration laws, Yensen may be permitted to remain on paying the customary tax of four dollars.

ARCADIA.

The people of this vicinity seem to think spring is here by the way they are sowing oats and making garden and planting potatoes.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Rudisill and children, Mr. and Mrs. Branch Wade and daughter of Chapin, and Miss Cecile White of Jacksonville spent Sunday at the Rudisill home.

C. E. Clark and family have moved into the home with J. J. Clark of this place.

The Rudisill Bros. of Virginia are doing some paper hanging in this vicinity this week.

Fred McFadden and family spent Saturday and Sunday with relatives near Beardstown.

We understand that there is a certain man in the neighborhood who does some very cheap drayage. A short time ago a man passed thru here in a Ford car going from Beardstown to Jacksonville. It was during the night and he got into a mud hole and there he stayed until he called this man out of bed and he harnessed his mules, furnished the fellow three and a half gallons of gasoline and pulled him three miles. He reached home about 3 o'clock in the morning and received one dollar for his night's work. Can you beat that.

SINCLAIR.

Hazel Menes delivered his corn at the Fox elevator.

Mrs. Lizzie Harrison is visiting her brother, N. B. Fox for a few days. Henry Danbar attended Mrs. Calista Fox's funeral at Pleasant Plains, March 25. Burial in Farmingdale cemetery.

George R. Swain received a load of cattle to feed this spring. Mrs. Colson is on the sick list. Dr. Wolf is her physician.

Mrs. Marie Ward is sick. Horace Swain is sick, but is able to return to the business college at Jacksonville.

Mrs. Pearl Steward has 120 little chicks hatched out of 150 eggs. Pretty good brood.

A. J. Brown from Ashland made a flying trip here recently. Phillip Hopper of the Mount Road gave us a friendly call recently.

E. E. Fox finished gathering his crop of corn the 24th, averaging 60 bushels per acre.

Ralph Wain is on the sick list again.

PREPAREDNESS.

"I have here a wonderful volume which discusses, in a most exhaustive way, the question of national preparedness," explained the melancholy stranger. "Some of our greatest thinkers and statesmen have contributed to its pages."

"The thinkers and statesmen might be better employed," protested Mrs. Curfew. "I used to have great admiration for distinguished people, like prelates and senators and commanders and generals, but it seems they spend most of their time writing testimonials for patent medicines or toilet soaps. Whenever an agent comes here with something made of barks and buds and healing herbs, he always tells me how it has been indorsed by the good and great, until I'm sick of the hall of fame and everybody in it."

"I hear enough about preparedness without buying a book treating of that subject. All the men in the neighborhood are arguing the question, when they should be cleaning up their premises, and getting ready for spring."

"Mr. Turpentine is strongly of the opinion that this country should have the biggest army and navy in the world, and that the bobcat should be the national emblem. He says a bobcat can whip anything of its weight in the world, while an eagle, which now figures as our emblem, is a rank quitter, and wouldn't last three minutes if it got into a scrap with a common garden bulldog. Mr. Turpentine is a very eloquent man, and is fortified with facts, and I confess I like to listen to him, altho I am suffering at this moment for doing so."

"Last evening he and Mr. Curfew were seated in the kitchen, and he was explaining about bobcats and eagles, and I was so interested I wasn't watching what I was doing. I went to pour some boiling water from the kettle into the dishpan, and, instead of doing so, I poured it on my foot, and said foot is in a par-boiled condition at this writing."

"When Mr. Turpentine paused in his argument, Mr. Curfew began explaining that there is nothing in this world like sweet, balmy peace, and that our national emblem should be the sheep, which has too much sense to fight, and couldn't fight if it had the sense. Mr. Turpentine interrupted, saying that the male sheep isn't for peace at any price, but is a scrapper from Bitter Creek, and they went on arguing back and forth, their voices getting louder all the time, until Mr. Turpentine called my husband an old saphead."

"Mr. Curfew said that while he stood up for peace on the day and night shift, he wouldn't take such an insult from any man, and he lammed Mr. Turpentine over the head with a skillet, and the two of them wrecked the kitchen before the neighbors came over and pulled them apart."

"Mr. Curfew is in bed now, with his head bandaged, and I don't want to hear any more about preparedness."

WAR ON PRACTICE OF RENTING OUT PAUPERS

STATE CHARITIES COMMISSION TO TAKE ACTION.

Revolting Conditions are all That Should be Expected Under the Circumstances According to Miss Anna Hinrichsen, Inspector for the Commission.

Springfield, Ill., March 28.—The state charities commission has declared war on the practice prevailing in many Illinois counties of renting out paupers to the lowest bidder. Revolting conditions are all that should be expected under the circumstances, according to Miss Anna Hinrichsen, inspector of institutions for the commission.

Virtual slavery is the result of the unhappy inmates, she said and she added that it would be hard to imagine more fearful living conditions than those described in her report to the commission on the Pulaski county almshouse, which report says in part:

"In a cheap, dingy, dilapidated cabin, the window panes broken and stuffed with rags and paper, live the inmates of this almshouse."

"The cabin is a long, low building with a tottering porch which threatens to sag entirely away from the wall. The main room is in the center of the house and from it on two sides extends a hall the width of the house. Each hall has eight small bed rooms."

"The main room in the dining room and sitting room of the house. The paint is almost worn from the walls. A chimney is built in the center of the room and from it the plaster is falling. In this room sits all day an old man. He seldom changes his clothes. The odor is disgusting. In this room the inmates eat their meals and in this room they must spend all their time in cold weather, for it is the only part of the building that is heated."

"The door is perforated with rat holes. The walls are covered with the trails of vermin."

"The furniture is broken old chairs. The dining room table is covered with ragged brown oilcloth. The dishes were originally white crockery, but they are brown with age and chipping. Tin utensils, worn and battered, vary the monotony of the brown crockery. The salt is used from a medicine bottle."

"The water for drinking purposes is in an old lard bucket on the table. This bucket is dark and greasy on the outside. The water was black and a dark scum floated on the surface."

"Just above the table was a double row of shelves covered with newspapers and holding a collection of old medicine bottles and empty glass jars. The newspapers were so covered with dust that the print on them could not be read and the glass was so dark with dust that the original color could not be learned."

"The inmates sit on broken chairs and on an old board propped into a semblance of a bench."

"Against the wall hung a towel, the common towel of the house. It is used for both bodies and dishes. It has evidently hung long on its nail. It was as black and greasy as if it had been used for cleaning an engine."

"The beds are dirty and in several of the rooms gunny sacks were used for bedclothes. Each bed is supplied with sheets and pillowcases but so dark was the color that it was necessary to pick up a case and examine it closely to learn the original color and texture. The cases and sheets were brown as the gunny sacks. All over everything crawled bedbugs."

"There are three men and two women. One man, a negro, is more than 100 years old. He is the man who sits all day in the sitting-dining room. Another negro is 65 years old and in a weak condition. The one white man is partially blind and is crippled. He is 60 years old and was formerly a well-to-do business man of Mound City."

"The two women, one black and one white, are 65 years old and feeble minded."

"All the work done in this cabin is done by these persons. Once a year the superintendent employs a woman to clean the building. The superintendent also occasionally employs a woman to wash the clothing of the inmates."

"The washing had evidently not been done recently for their clothes were covered with grease and dirt and hung in tatters. Their shoes were almost falling from their stockless feet. Faces were grimy and hair was uncombed."

"The cooking is done in the superintendent's house which is as dilapidated as the inmates' cabin. The kitchen was very dirty and was cluttered with old crockery, rags, sticks and tin pans."

"The dinner was being cooked. It was an abundant one. The matron was preparing potatoes, peas, onions, beans, coffee, meat, bread, butter and milk. The inmates say they have more food than they can eat and that it is well cooked. The food was of good quality but the utensils in which it was prepared and the tables on which it was prepared, were not clean."

"There is not a well on the grounds. Cistern water must be used. The cistern was low and the water in it was black. This is the water that the inmates drink and with which washing is done—whenever any is done."

"The common toilet is far from the house. It was fairly clean but in great need of disinfection."

"Potatoes are planted up to the foundations of the inmates' cabin.

"The grounds are cluttered with farm machinery and trash of many kinds. The outbuildings and the fences are almost falling to pieces."

"Overlooking all this filth and desolation, the one clean, decent spot on the wretched place, is a large, new barn. The superintendent needed a new barn for farm stock and the county commissioners built it. The barn is well built and is clean. It cost $800."

"For the care given these inmates, the county pays the superintendent $2.50 per week for each one. An additional $5 is allowed for burial. The superintendent has the use of an 80 acre farm into which he puts few improvements. The land is valued at $50 an acre."

"The farm is 15 miles from the county seat. The houses are far from a traveled road."

"These buildings should be destroyed. Nothing except the inauguration of a new system of management, the obliteration of the wretched system of renting out the poor, can make this almshouse a decent place for human beings. Filthy, vile smelling room, viler beds, drinking water not fit for cattle, and absence of any care, the continual presence of hordes of vermin—these are the only things that can be given to these inmates under the renting out system."

National Association of Real Estate

Exchanges opened here today its annual convention. Over a hundred exchanges are represented, covering the leading cities of the country.

Governor Luther E. Hall of Louisiana welcomed the visitors in an address at the opening session this morning.

Mayor Behrman welcomed the delegates on behalf of the city.

Walter C. Piper, president of the national association, is presiding, real estate men are being entertained by the local exchange this afternoon.

Tomorrow the convention gets down to business, and will be in session until Friday afternoon.

When the Association was formed eight years ago, only a dozen cities were represented, but since that time the spread has been steady and rapid until it now covers a greater part of the United States and Canada. The real beginning of the organization dates back about a quarter of a century, when the need for standardization of the real estate business was clearly seen.

Including the subjects of housing, city planning, sanitation, public health and business development, the program takes on much of great public interest. These subjects will be treated at the breakfast conferences to be held Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Tomorrow morning

Hon. Myron T. Herrick will speak on real estate as an investment.

Alfred H. Wagg of Malvern, N. Y.,

will speak on community development, and N. J. Upham of Duluth will be heard on international organization. Tomorrow afternoon,

J. C. Nichols of Kansas City will speak on city planning, after which a speaking contest of five minute talks will be held, the winner to receive the Chicago silver trophy cup.

BLOOD THE SEAT OF DISEASE.

An eminent authority on nervous diseases has announced that the blood is the seat of all diseases. How important, therefore, that it be kept in a pure, healthy condition. For this purpose our local druggist, Lee P. Alcott, guarantees Vinol because it is a combination of the three most successful tonics known, iron in its most soluble form, the medicinal extractives of fresh cod livers, without oil, and the nourishing properties of beef peptone. CONCORD.

L. M. Millikin, pastor of the Christian church, and Mr. Fairchild of the M. P. church were Meredosa visitors one day last week and brought home a good sample of the "finny tribe." It is just nine miles from here to the river by the "air-ship route," but the ministers declare it is lots farther than that by a wagon road. Verily, "Jordan am a hard road to trample."

Elmer Brockhouse of Bluffs visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Brockhouse, on Sunday.

Little Miss Rowena Rice of the McKendree chapel neighborhood has been visiting her uncle, Alfred Brockhouse, and family.

Miss Rose Quigg visited her sister, Nellie, near Hopewell Saturday and Sunday.

John A. Whorton has been visiting his son-in-law, Joe Whorton and family at White Hall.

Teresa Hamm has been right sick but is better. Mae Johnson has been on the sick list, too.

There was no preaching at the M. E. church Sunday on account of the death of Mrs. Dimmitt. The remains were taken to Griggsville for burial on Sunday. The funeral party went from Chapin at 10:24.

Mrs. W. C. Brockhouse went Saturday to visit her daughter east of Arezville.

Howard Yeck had a runaway Saturday night and the bad luck to get his buggy smashed up.

Mrs. H. Northrup of Jacksonville was a Sunday visitor at the home of her sister, Mrs. Sam Brockhouse.

Dr. F. A. McCarty of Jacksonville came to Concord on the early train Sunday to accompany Rev. and Mrs. W. P. Bowman on their sad trip to Griggsville.

Next Sunday morning an anti-alcohol speaker will be at the Christian church. In the afternoon he will go to a country church with Rev. Mr. Fairchild. At night a union service will be held at the M. E. church.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Way of Virginia were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Bert Way over Sunday in "South Concord."

Mrs. W. R. Zahn who was operated upon at Passavant hospital recently is expected home today (Tuesday) if the weather is good.

MOTHER! GIVE CHILD "SYRUP OF FIGS" IF TONGUE IS COATED

If Cross, Feverish, Sick, Bilious, Clean Little Liver and Bowels.

Children love this "fruit laxative" and nothing else cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels so nicely. A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels, and the result is they become tightly clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour, then your little one becomes cross, half-sick, feverish, don't eat, sleep or act naturally, breath is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomach-ache or diarrhoea. Listen, Mother! See if tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the system, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers give "California Syrup of Figs" because it is perfectly harmless; children love it, and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels. Ask your druggist for a 5-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.—Adv.

EAT WITHOUT FEAR OF INDIGESTION OR SOUR, ACID STOMACH

Instant Relief! "Pape's Diapepsin"
Ends Your Stomach Trouble Forever.

Wonder what upset your stomach, which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into acid, belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapepsin and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is "Pape's Diapepsin" which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Please, for your sake, don't go on and on with weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.—Adv.

PRINCE ALBERT

is the real tobacco for jimmy pipes and makin's
cigarettes!

You back-up and get a fresh start!

Know right off that this talk is directed at you who can't smoke a pipe; who can't enjoy a rolled cigarette! For men who got away to a false start Prince Albert has a word or two for what ails their smokeappetites!

And it should be handed out here that digging joy from a jimmy pipe or makin's cigarette is as easy as it is for us to tip you off to it. All the training necessary is to get the right packing—and fire away! And P. A. is the tobacco you need!

You'll find Prince Albert waiting your word in all corners of the States, and all over the civilized world! Tasty red hairs, 5c; tidy red tins, 10c; pound and half-pound tin humidors—and that classy crystal-glass pound humidur with sponge-moistener top that keeps the tobacco in such fine fettle—always!

Forget you ever tried to smoke, for Prince Albert is so different, so cool and cheerful and friendly, you'll get a new idea of smoke joy! The patented process fixes that—and cuts out bite and parch!

And this little preachment is also for men who think they're on the right track. All to be said is that the sooner you lay out a nickel or a dime for a supply of Prince Albert, the sooner you'll make a discovery that'll be worth a lot to your peace of mind and tongue!

Get the idea of smoking all you want without a comeback—that's P. A.!

On the reverse side of this tidy red tin you will read: "Process Patented July 30th, 1907," which has made three men smoke pipes where one smoked before!

REVIVAL SERVICE PROCEEDS WITH EXCELLENT INTEREST

Rev. Mr. Flagg Speaks on Story of Naaman, the Leper, at Centenary
M. E. Church—Cottage Prayer Meeting Announced.

A fine congregation was present at the revival service at Centenary M. E. church last night. It was marked by inspiring music under the leadership of Mr. Moon, who had at his command almost a full chorus. The music is proving one of the attractive features of the meetings and under the masterly direction of Mr. Moon there are still better things ahead.

The song service began with "Brighten the Corner Where You Are," followed by other appealing hymns. At one point during the song service the chorus was called to sing for the special benefit of the ladies and this special song was so suggestive that every lady present removed her hat.

As a solo Mr. Moon sang, "Have You Forgotten God?" The Rev. C. E. Davis offered the opening prayer. Mr. Moon took occasion to speak of the notices of the meetings given by the papers of the city and asked those who were interested in the meetings to express their appreciation to the Journal and Courier.

Before the services each evening a short prayer service is held in the Sunday school rooms. Mr. Moon meeting with the young men and Mrs. Moon with the young ladies of high school age. Hereafter these will be at 7:10. There was an increase in the attendance at both of these services last night.

Tuesday morning a cottage prayer service was held at the home of Mrs. F. E. Neal on West North street, which was well attended. Wednesday morning at 9:30 a similar service will be held at the home of Mrs. Christina Smith, 422 South East street. All Christian women interested in the meetings are invited to this short prayer service. It will be for only thirty minutes and will be under the leadership of Mrs. Moon. The subject will be "Confidence in God." The purpose is to help those who will do personal work.

The sermon by Rev. Mr. Flagg was strong. The text being Prov. 3-4, "With all thy getting, get understanding." It was based on the story of the healing of Naaman by Elisha and the falsehood told by the old prophet's servant to get rich gifts from the Syrian general.

"The world," said the speaker, "holds up rich men as those who have made a success in life, without any regard to their heart. The Bible tells us wealth is the gift of God if it is worth anything to its possessor."

Elisha knew enough of the will of God to refuse Naaman's gifts for the cure of leprosy. He seemed legitimate enough from the standpoint of the philanthropist or the statesman. He knew that, not because he was told not to take it, for we are not informed he was thus guarded by the word of the Lord, but because he had the instinct for the divine opportunity, and so could recognize this was not one that God would have him use.

"Gehazi used worldly wisdom, and failed to get God's view of the situation. He got the dollars, but the leprosy that went with them."

"We are liable to gather leprosy infected money in everyday life, whether it be much or little we get, unless we have the Spirit of the Lord Jesus Christ as our own."

"The opportunity the Lord would have us reject is the opportunity the devil would surely have us accept."

SOME FARM THEMES.

Farmers Busy With Oats.

The snow and rain of recent days has interfered quite largely with farm work. Before the bad weather came oat sowing was the principal occupation on Morgan county farms, or at least preparation for oat sowing. An increasing number of farmers are applying limestone on their oats fields this year.

C. A. Rowe is making a test and in his field there are alternate strips of land with lime applied and strips on which there has been no application. Altho Mr. Rowe, with some others, owns a piece of machinery for scattering limestone, he uses the shovel method as experience has shown that the limestone machine will not work satisfactorily unless the stone is very dry and absolutely of uniform size. The generally accepted method now is simply to haul the limestone to the field and scatter it about with short handled shovels to the amount of about two tons to the acre.

Many farmers last year gave their oat seed formaldehyde treatment before planting and an increasing number will follow the plan this year. The application of formaldehyde has been proven an almost certain preventive measure for rust and it is so little trouble and so inexpensive that farmers generally are adopting the plan. Local drug stores are selling formaldehyde in convenient form and a small portion is sufficient to make forty gallons of the mixture.

The ordinary method of application is to spread the oat seed out on a clean floor or on canvas and then sprinkle with the formaldehyde solution. Then the farmer takes a shovel and moves the oats about until all the grains have come in touch with the solution. After this process the seed should be covered over and all light kept out for a few hours before planting. It is possible to treat the seed the day before planting if the oats are thoroughly covered up after the process.

THREE WILLS PLACED ON RECORD COURT HOUSE TUESDAY

Mrs. Dorothea Batz Left Portion of Estate in Trust—Will of Mrs. Mary Rohrer Rynders Provides for Distribution of Real and Personal Property—Robert Seymour Left Large Estate.

Three wills were filed in the office of County Clerk Borah Tuesday and provide for distribution of the estate of Mrs. Dorothea Batz, Mrs. Mary Rohrer Rynders and Robert Seymour.

The will of Mrs. Batz was made March 4, 1899, with J. K. C. Piereson and Judge Edward P. Kirby as the witnesses. William L. Batz is named executor and is to serve without bond. Provision is made for the payment of any debts there may be and it is provided that Mrs. Minna Toensman, daughter of the deceased, may buy the old home property on East North street if she so elects for a sum of $2,000. It is provided that the purchase is to be paid to William L. Batz as his property and the remaining $1,000 is to be paid to him as trustee.

If Mrs. Toensman does not wish to buy the property, then William Batz will have the opportunity of purchasing it at the same figure, the distribution of the proceeds to be made in the same way. If neither one wishes to purchase the property it is to be sold by the executor and one-half of the proceeds shall go to William Batz personally and one-half to him as trustee. The two store rooms on East State street owned by the deceased are willed to William L. Batz, subject to a payment by him of $4,000 into a trust fund. The $4,000 thus paid and one-half the proceeds of the sale of the East North street property are to be held by Mr. Batz as trustee and he is to pay over the interest on this fund to Mrs. Minna Toensman during her life time. At her death the principal sum is to be turned over to Fred Batz, grandson of the deceased. In the event of the death of Mrs. Toensman and of F. L. Batz while William Batz is still living, the principal sum shall be paid to him.

Property to Children.

The will of Mrs. Mary Rohrer Rynders of Waverly was drawn Nov. 11, 1914, with Misses Bessie Bryan and Carrie Root as the witnesses to the signature. C. F. Wemple is named executor. Some minor articles of personal property are given to Pearl Spyrer, a granddaughter of the deceased, and to John W. Rynders, her husband. The remainder of the personal property is to be sold and the proceeds divided in equal manner among Judson Rohrer, Lennie F. Berry and Lizzie M. Horton, children of the testatrix. A tract of ten acres in section 26-12-8 is to be sold and the proceeds divided among Mrs. Rynders' grandchildren, Kenneth Rohrer, Pearl Spyrer, Leota Pershall and Helen Dunseth. The property known as lots 1 and 2 and part of lot 3 in D. A. Selver's subdivision of lot 142 in Waverly, is to be sold and the proceeds divided among Judson Rohrer, Lennie Berry and Lizzie Horton, the children of the deceased. All the remaining real estate is to be divided in equal shares among them.

The Seymour Will.

The will of Robert Seymour was drawn on July 18, 1913, and Mrs. Wilmuth Gibson, Mrs. Alice Deere and Mrs. Emma Rawlings, children of the testator, were named to execute the document. The signature was witnessed by E. D. Scott, Sylvester Scott and William Rees. It is provided that after the payment of debts that the property of all kinds is to be divided among the three daughters named as executrices and the children of Pauline Seymour, a son of the deceased, and the children of John Seymour, a grandson of the deceased.

Each of the daughters is to receive a one-fourth interest in the property and the grandchildren and great grandchildren are to each have an equal share in one-fourth of the property.

It is said that Mr. Seymour had quite extensive land holdings in the southern part of the county.

PROBATE COURT.

In the matter of the conservatorship of Homer Van Winkle, the report filed by M. B. Keplinger was approved.

In the estate of Mary Rohrer Rynders, petition for probate of the will was filed by C. F. Wemple and the hearing set for April 24th.

In the matter of the estate of Mrs. Dorothea Batz, deceased, William Batz filed petition for probate of the will and the hearing was fixed for April 24th.

The court ordered the destruction of the ballots cast in the Judicial election June 7, 1915, and in the primary election of Sept. 15, 1915, and appointed W. H. Self, and Howard Wannamaker to represent the two leading political parties and witness the destruction of the ballots.

MARKET LETTERS

Kansas City Livestock Market.
Kansas City, March 27.—Stock and feeder trade was forcibly contracted last week by smaller receipts, but shipments to the country showed a larger percentage of the supply than during the preceding week. Prices ruled firm during the week, stock steers selling up to $8.25, and heavy feeders going out at $8.50 to $8.80. Purchasers came from a wide territory, including some new points never represented in the buying here before, extreme south-east Missouri for example. Receipts today are 10,000 cattle, and the market is firm on all kinds. Most localities report good prospects for early grass, and the trade is getting some stimulus for that reason. Sales today included stock steers up to $8.65, although bulk of the stockers sell at $7.00 to $8.25, and the feeders $7.75 to $8.50. The market on fed cattle is higher today, and prospects ahead point to light receipts during the next 30 or 60 days, at all the markets. The low point which Illinois, Indiana and other states have reached on cattle is being felt more sharply now than any time in the last 18 months, since the outbreak of foot and mouth disease. Breeding stock continues to move freely, and to all points of the compass. Breeding cows range from $5.50 to $6.75, and choice breeding heifers sell up to $8 or more. Shearing lambs are selling at $10 to $10.65, although packers' needs are urgent and few escape their buyers. Immature stock hog trade is active, at prices up to $10.

Chicago Livestock Market.
Chicago, March 27.—Oliver S. Green, with Walter Bros., U. S. Yards, Chicago, reports the estimated receipts for Monday, March 27: 16,000 cattle, 37,000 hogs, 9,000 sheep. Owing to a rain falling continuously during the day, and quite blustery as well, especially in the forenoon session, buyers and sellers were not close to each other. Especially on all but choice to prime. The market was quite uneven. Prime of all weights sold steady to strong, but other grades, calls strong, steady and weak to lower. 21 prime 1369 pound cattle made 10c, as well as 11 head of 1719 cattle at 10c, 6 head of 1480 pound cattle at 10c. Several loads 1100 to 1553 pounds at $9.75 to $9.90. Nothing offered as choice as the top notchers last week. Choice in short supply but class selling from $9.25 to $9.65 in fairly liberal numbers.

Butcher stock scarce and with a good demand bulk 10 to 15c up. All except canners and cutters shared in price gains. Bulls strong to higher. Calves 25c lower. Feeders slow sale, but generally steady.

Native beef cattle.
Choice to prime heavy and handy weights, $9.50 to $10.05.
Good to choice corn feds, $8.65 to $9.50.
Medium to heavy short feds, $8.25 to $8.65.
Plain to decent warmed ups, $7.75 to $8.15.
Common to plain steers, $7.15 to $7.65.
Inferior to rough steers, $6.25 to $7.25.
Good to prime yearlings, $8.85 to $9.85.
Common to fair yearlings, $7.50 to $8.75.
Fat cows, $5.15 to $8.75.
Heifers, common to choice, $5.75 to $9.25.
Fancy quotable up to $9.50.
Bulls, $6.00 to $8.40.
Canners and cutters, $3.00 to $5.00.
Calves, $5.00 to $10.00.
Stockers and feeders, $5.75 to $8.00.

Choice selected light to good weights, $8.00 to $8.50.
Hog market averaged about 5 to 10c higher than Saturday. Top butchers 10c. Slingers made $10.10. Mixed packing, $9.55 to $9.80.
Prime to good heavy packing, $9.60 to $9.82 1-2.
Rough heavy packing, $9.10 to $9.40.
Light weights, $9.40 to $9.85.
Select packing and shipping, $9.85 to $10.10.
Pigs and throw outs, $4.00 to $9.15.

The supply of sheep and lambs too light to get all dealers to show their hands. Shorn sheep and lambs 25c higher. Colorado lambs ruled 15 to 25c higher. Run far below expectations. Five cars of Colorado lambs made $11.90, a phenomenal record.

Native lambs. $7.00 to $10.75.
Colorado lambs, $10.75 to $11.90.
Western lambs, $9.00 to $11.00.
Native bucks, $4.50 to $7.50.
Colorado lambs, $4.50 to $6.00.
Shorn western wethers, $7.00 to $8.50.
Native ewes, $8.25 to $8.50.
Shorn western wethers, $7.00 to $8.50.

Lambs commanding best prices are heavy weights, 1 c. 70 to 80 pounds.
Miss Emma Robinson of Litchfield arrived in the city yesterday and after a short visit with Jacksonville friends proceeded to Carrollton.

CAN'T FIND DANDRUFF.

Every bit of dandruff disappears after one or two applications of Danderine rubbed well into the scalp with the finger tips. Get a 25 cent bottle of Danderine at any drug store and save your hair. After a few applications you can't find a particle of dandruff or any falling hair, and the scalp will never itch.

CROP DAMAGE REPORTS BRING DECIDED ADVANCE IN WHEAT

Market Closes Strong at 2 to 3¢
Cents Net Higher—Other Leading Staples All Show Gains.

Chicago, March 28.—Crop damage reports appeared to be chiefly responsible for a decided advance today in the price of wheat. The market closed strong, 2c to 3 1/2c net higher, with May at 1.13 1/2c to 1.13 3/4c and July at 1.10 1/2c. Other leading staples, too, all showed gains. Corn 1/2c to 3/4c, oats 1/2c to 3/4c and provisions 1/2c to 1 1/2c.

Evidence developed that foreigners were taking a hand here in the buying of future deliveries of wheat. In this connection bulls pointed out that an advance which had taken place at Liverpool was ascribed to chances that submarine activity would interfere with supplies. Bullish significance was also attached in some quarters to an upturn in war risk rates on the Atlantic.

Corn rallied in sympathy with wheat. During most of the day, however, the corn market was under selling pressure from longs who desired to realize on holdings, and who took advantage of early firmness that resulted from weaker adverse to the movement of the crop. Demand from elevator companies helped to strengthen oats. Offerings were light.

Lower prices on hogs had only a transient effect on provisions. In the latter dealings the setbacks were more than overcome by the bulges in the value of grain.

SUGAR REACHES A NEW HIGH RECORD

New York, March 28.—A new high record for fine granulated sugar was established today when two refiners quoted 7 1/2 cents a pound for that product. The record advance was ascribed to the high price of raw sugar, the small supplies believed to be in the hands of local refiners and the prospects for a depleted European beet crop. The raw product sold today at 4 1/2 to 5c, 142,000 bags being taken at these prices for April and May shipment.

Jacob Baker of Woodson was transacting business in the city yesterday.

EXTERNAL AFFAIRS EXERT SLIGHT INFLUENCE ON STOCKS

Prices Are Elevated Quite Generally
After an Early Interval of Uncertainty.

New York, March 28.—External affairs appeared to exert slight influence today so far, at least, as they bore upon the more speculative aspects of the market. Prices were elevated quite generally after an early interval of uncertainty.

Trading was active during the forenoon, tapered off materially at mid-day and became increasingly apathetic in the final hour. Such favorite as Crucible Steel, Locomotive, the motor and semi-active industries and equipments rose 1 to 1 1/2 points, but metals and oils were relatively backward except Butte and Superior and American Zinc. Coppers were variable. Sugars were again distinguished for their meteoric flights, with new high records for Cuban-American, which rose 16 points to 245, and South Porto Rico on its gain of 7 to 197.

Rails and other investment stocks were negligible features, but fairly firm, additional excellent February statements contributing to that tone.

Bethlehem Steel added another 25 points to its steady reversal of recent days, falling to 470, and Mercantile Marine were consistently heavy in marked contrast to the strength of United Fruit. United States Steel fluctuated within fractional limits and was eclipsed in activity by a half dozen stocks of lesser prominence. Quotations were a point or more under their best at the irregular close. Total sales of stocks amounted to 525,000 shares.

Regardless of the apprehension expressed by contractors at the steady rise in prices of fabricated steel and iron, further advances in finished materials were reported today from the Pittsburgh district. More orders for rails and other equipment were placed.

WIFE TOO ILL TO WORK

IN BED MOST OF TIME

Her Health Restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Indianapolis, Indiana. — "My health was so poor and my constitution so run down that I could not work. I was thin, pale and weak, weighed but 109 pounds and was in bed most of the time. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and five months later I weighed 133 pounds. I do all the housework and washing for eleven and I can truthfully say Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been a godsend to me for I would have been in my grave today but for it. I would tell all women suffering as I was to try your valuable remedy." — Mrs. Wm. Green, 232 S. Addison Street, Indianapolis, Indiana.

There is hardly a neighborhood in this country, wherein some woman has not found health by using this good old-fashioned root and herb remedy.

If there is anything about which you would like special advice, write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

A Fine Aid For Mother-to-be

A Helpful Influence At This Most Interesting Period In Woman's Life

We are all greatly indebted to those who tell their experiences. And among the many things which we read about and are of immediate importance to the expectant mother, is a special did external remedy called "Mother's Friend." This is applied over the muscles of the stomach. It is deeply penetrating in its influence. Mothers everywhere tell of its soothing effect, how it allays pains incident to stretching of cord, ligaments and muscles. They tell of restful comfort, of calm, peaceful nights, of absence of those distresses peculiar to the period of expectancy, relief from morning sickness, no more of that apprehension with which so many young women's minds become burdened. It is a splendid help. Get a bottle of "Mother's Friend" from your nearest druggist. Ask your husband to get it for you. Then write to Bradfield Regulator Co., 208 Lamar Bldg., Albany, N. Y., for a very handsome and instructive book. It is filled with suggestive ideas of great help to all women interested in the subject of maternity. And best of all are some letters from mothers that are real inspirations. Write today.

We can go back half a century for letters from women who used "Mother's Friend." And it was this sort of recommendation that extended its use until today it is sold in almost every drug store in the United States. It is considered a standard remedy and one of the most efficient helps known. Directions for using are very easily complied with and it may be used at any time whenever needed.

AQUINALDO BROUGHT IN FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

Washington, Mar. 28.—It was on March 28, 1901, just fifteen years ago today, that Aguinaldo, the Filipino revolutionist, was brought into Manila a prisoner of the United States government. That event brought into the limelight General Frederick D. Funston, who is now directing the American forces sent to capture Villa. There were many conditions in the Philippine task that resemble those under which the troops are working in Mexico.

Aguinaldo maintained a system of outposts that kept him in touch with what was going on. It is known that Villa is well supplied with similar sources of information. Villa has followed the tactics of the Filipino chief by retiring to the mountains. Funston decided in the Philippine hunt that it was impossible to catch the insurgent leader by going after him openly; and the question has been raised here as to whether the strategy which was used to effect Aguinaldo's capture will be repeated in the Mexican mountains this Spring.

It was on March 6, 1911, that the Funston party started out from Manila. For the most part, the members were natives. These were dressed and armed like the insurgents. Funston and his fellow officers were dressed as privates in the American army and were taken along as prisoners. Reaching the lair of Aguinaldo, the disguised natives shot down the guards, while Funston and his fellow officers rushed in and took Aguinaldo personally. The triumphant return of the party from their hazardous undertaking was hailed as the end of the revolution in the Philippines.

The following month, Aguinaldo took the oath of allegiance to the United States and wrote a proclamation ending the fighting. Since that time, the Filipino chief has kept out of politics. His first public appearance since his voluntary exile from politics was during the celebration in Manila of the election of President Wilson. He delivered an address on that occasion.

Aguinaldo is a peaceful farmer at Kawite, in the province of Cavite. He is a student of modern methods of agriculture and banking. His daughter is being educated in American schools. He is a thoroughly good Filipino, and General Funston says he is one of the best natives he ever met.

Will Villa be brought in? Will it be by open force or by strategy? Will he be turned from his evil ways? and will Mexico be freed from its endless revolutions and bloodshed? These are the questions that officials are speculating upon.

FEDERAL COMMISSION PROBES GASOLINE RATES

Washington, Mar. 28.—Special investigators of the Federal Commission are combing the country for data concerning the high cost of gasoline. Refiners, jobbers, retailers and garage men are being consulted, and a great mass of data has been obtained. Some of it was furnished willingly and other information was secured only by the most difficult inspection of records.

The results of the investigation will be made public in six or seven weeks, according to Commissioner Harris who is conducting the investigation. Accurate information as to the cause of the rise in gasoline prices will be given the public and Congress.

Complaints have come from many sections of the country concerning gasoline prices and the Federal Trade Commission which was organized for just such purposes began a general probe into the causes. Whether the laws of demand and supply have caused the rise in rates or whether the oil magnates are out to "milk the public," as charged by many of the complainants, it is one of the Commission's duties to decide.

Sealed bids are hereby asked by the city council for supplying the city with one street flusher. Specifications are now on file in this office. Bids must be accompanied by certified checks for one-tenth of the amount of the bid. The council reserves the right to reject any and all bids. Bids will be received up to 10 a. m., April 3, 1916.

GOOD ROADS AS BUSINESS GETTERS

At the Boosters' club meeting Tuesday night Frank J. Heim in discussing the relation of good roads to business made the following pointed argument in favor of better highways:

"I wish to direct your attention to the possibilities of the combination of good roads and motor transportation. Jacksonville is the geographical center of a rich agricultural region and exceedingly well located as regards the great central markets. Agriculture is the foundation of all permanent prosperity. A higher development of the agricultural resources of our trade territory, which is sure to come, will greatly enlarge the purchasing power of our country-side, increase the trade of the towns and broaden country life. As a commercial center our prosperity depends upon the prosperity of the farm communities and the towns around us. Their prosperity means ours for prosperity cannot be forced up—it is as contagious as the measles or hard times.

"The future prosperity of Jacksonville depends very largely upon the development of agriculture and transportation facilities in the territory contiguous to it. The high cost of living which is weighing down the people of the countryside as well as those of the towns is the direct result of the high cost of selling. The economic problem of today is not so much one of production as of distribution and the country road, the first link in the process of distribution is working at its lowest efficiency.

"The same processes of distribution apply to a greater or less extent to everything produced on the farms except dairy and poultry produce and perishable fruits. The profits from the distribution of those apples which go to the middleman outside of our community are lost to us forever. Those profits should stay at home in our community, they should add to the wealth and purchasing power of our people and open avenues of commerce to our young men.

"The use of the auto in periods of good roads is extending widely the trade territory of Jacksonville. During several recent holiday seasons we enjoyed good roads and our merchants had a good trade brought by autos from considerable distances and our business section was filled with out of town autos and shoppers. Last winter we had bad roads and the out of town autos and shoppers were sadly missed by our merchants and that holiday trade which we lost, and which we should have had if the roads had been passable, is gone forever. These conditions apply not only to holiday trade but also to trade every day in the year.

"Jacksonville's natural trade territory extends in all directions. The sections between us and the Illinois river under present conditions come here because we are easily accessible. In times gone we enjoyed considerable trade from across the river but Hannibal, Louisiana and Quincy are, with much success, making strong drives for this trade. Each is improving highways into that territory. On the north of us trade from and around Beardstown, Virginia and Ashland is being directed by the B. & O. to Springfield. On the south of us the C. & A. cutoff is taking trade which naturally belongs here to Springfield. The Waverly community in the absence of good railroad service to our city and with good service to Springfield is learning to trade at the latter place. A long dependable highway will be more important than railroads as local trade getters. The passenger traffic reports of the railroads and interurbans prove this. The railroad conductors tell us that local passenger traffic is all shot to pieces by autos except during those periods when the roads are impassable.

"Dependable roads in all directions from Jacksonville will bring back to us the trade of our surrounding territory which naturally belongs to us and which for several years has been diverted by the railroads to other points, and more than that they will bring trade from sections heretofore too remote to come here conveniently. They will do more than that for they will permit the farmers to practice a more diversified farming, which is the most profitable farming and will enable the farms to send into town perishable dairy and poultry products, fruits and vegetables, the most wholesome foods, and thereby not only add to their profits but at the same time will reduce our cost of living.

"Motor transportation is in its infancy. Local commerce of the future will follow largely dependable roads and a system of such roads will bring us business we never dreamed of until within the last few years. A long distance auto trail is a business getter. I would rather have a dependable highway thru Jacksonville either east and west or north and south across the state than another railroad. Why? Because the auto tourist is a spender. He expects to leave some cash in every town the size of ours. The auto tourist comes right into the business section of town. Our merchants have a chance at him and the occupants of his car. He sees the town.

"The thru passenger on the railroads stops a few minutes at the station and leaves not a cent in town and unfortunately he does not get a good impression of the place from the railroad tracks. That is why it is so important to direct auto tourists into our town and to put Jacksonville on long distance auto trails. Let us turn these backward a decade.

Crowds Turn Always Towards Bright Signs

The Store With the Big, Bright Beckoning Sign Unfailingly Draws the Crowd

It is as natural for a person, or a crowd of persons, to turn towards light as it is for a duck to take to water—they just can't help it, and they will remain just as long as the lights are bright. That's a fact.

Mr. Business Man, How About Your Store Sign; Is its Beckoning Irresistible?

Mr. Dean, of the Chicago Federal Sign System, artistic designer and sign expert, is here now to consult with and advise you. His services are free. Call either phone 580 for Mr. Dean or Mr. McLaren, and ask to be given individual designs.

Jacksonville Railway & Light Co

Ten years ago I was in the Illinois legislature. The people of the countryside were then demanding and not without some reason, protection from the dare-devil auto driver. Probably there were not 100 cars owned in the county and those were mostly owned by residents of the towns. I recall that farmers came to me and asserted that they would use pitch forks and shot guns in self protection.

"Today there are probably 1000 cars owned in the county and the farmers are buying the cars and they ought to for several reasons. Ten years ago there was not an oil road in the county and a split log road was a novelty. Today everybody is aroused to the advantages of good roads. With the reduction in the price of cars, the use of motor vehicles for heavy hauling and road improvement, who can even guess at the possibilities of the combination of good roads and motor transportation? The combination of motor transportation and good roads is full of tremendous possibilities. You young men and others of your age will soon occupy the field of action in this community as captains of industry and commerce and leaders in civic and community betterments. Does not this problem merit your serious and best consideration?"

RETURNS TO JACKSONVILLE AFTER MANY YEARS.

Herbert L. Peebles of Denver, Colo., is in the city for a short visit with his brother-in-law, W. H. Stull. He was a resident of Jacksonville thirty years ago and served as clerk in two or three establishments. Mr. Peebles is enthusiastic for the capital of Colorado and says it grew twelve thousand last year, though for a time back of that the city went back. He has great confidence in Judge Ben Lindsay, the famous juvenile court man whom he regards as just, pure and capable. Mr. Peebles says Judge Lindsay could be elected governor of Colorado any day. He didn't exactly immortalize himself by accompanying Henry Ford across the ocean though his intentions were good. Mr. Peebles says that persons from many parts of the country as well as some from foreign lands have come to Denver to get information regarding Judge Lindsay's methods of dealing with youthful law breakers.

ARTHUR HARMON DIES TUESDAY
AT OUR SAVIOR'S HOSPITAL

Long Time Resident of County Passes Away After Illness of Two Months—Was Born in Ireland 75 Years Ago.

Arthur Harmon passed away Tuesday forenoon at 10 o'clock after an illness of six weeks at Our Savior's hospital. He in failing health since last fall it was not until two months ago that he took to his bed and two weeks later that he left his residence, 516 East College avenue, for the hospital.

Funeral arrangements were not perfected Tuesday night and definite announcement will be made some time today. Miss Ida Harmon, a daughter, left Ellsworth, Minn., early Tuesday afternoon and is expected to arrive in Jacksonville this evening.

The death of Mr. Harmon marks the passing of a life well spent. Conscientious as a citizen, honest and upright in all his dealings, true and loyal as a friend, Mr. Harmon lays down the burden of life with small cause for regret. Good deeds have wrought for him the best eulogy.

Born seventy five years ago in County Wicklow, Ireland, Mr. Harmon came with his parents, John and Mary Shiel Harmon, to Canada and took residence near Niagara Falls. There he lived until 1858, when the family removed to Jacksonville. After a year and a half in town, John Harmon removed his family to a farm near Pisgah and here he made his home until the time of his death.

Mr. Harmon was married Feb. 3, 1876, to Miss Catherine McCarty and to this union were born four sons and six daughters. A daughter, Henrietta, died in infancy, while Mrs. Theresa Gougherty passed away March 26, 1910, almost six years to a day before the death of her father. The surviving sons are William T. and Earl A. Harmon of Jacksonville, Robert Emmett Harmon of Davis, Cal., and H. J. Harmon of Chicago. The daughters are Misses Grace and Anna Harmon of Chicago, Miss Ida Harmon, teaching in Minnesota, and Miss Rena Harmon, at home. Mr. Harmon leaves three brothers, Mathew Harmon, Patrick Harmon and John Harmon, Jacksonville, and a sister, Miss Katherine Harmon of Phoenix, Ariz. The father, John Harmon, died in 1896 and the mother preceded her son in death sixteen years ago, at the good old age of 96.

Mr. Harmon was a faithful member of the Church of Our Savior nor was his profession behind his life. Sorrow at once wide spread and poignant attends his death.

CHARLES P. MALLEY DIES
TUESDAY AT QUINCY HOME

Veteran Wabash Conductor Answers Call of Death After Two Score Years of Faithful Service.

C. P. Malley, for a number of years conductor on the Wabash, died at his home in Quincy Tuesday morning at 4 o'clock. Mr. Malley was 63 years of age and had been in the service of the Wabash for thirty-nine years. During his time as conductor on trains No. 3 and 12, arriving here at 7:15 a. m. and 9:45 p. m., Mr. Malley had become acquainted with a majority of the regular patrons of the road and his death will be noted with regret by many friends.

Mr. Malley was born at Kilmarlock, Ireland, June 7, 1856, the seventh of the family of nine sons of Charles P. Malley," says the Quincy Herald of Tuesday. "When he was still a mere boy the family came to Illinois, and located in Knox county, near Galesburg, where Charles attended school. At an early age the life of the railroader attracted him, and he found employment in the service of the C. B. & Q. remaining with that company four years, leaving them to enter the service of the Wabash, with which he continued for the long period of thirty-nine years. He was advanced rapidly and before he had attained his majority had been entrusted with the running of a train. While with the Wabash he was first in charge of trains running between Quincy and Bluffs, but for twenty-eight years had been on the passenger runs between Quincy and Decatur. He was given the honor of bringing the first passenger train into the new station at Sixth and York—a distinction due him thru long service and as the station was in his home town. He was in a number of accidents during his term of service, but on account of ill health never lost a day from duty, his first illness proving the one that ended in his death this morning. On December 5 last he met with an accident in which he received an injury in the leg and was off duty until the 27th of January, when he returned to his run and remained on duty until the 10th of the present month. He brought his train into the station that day and went home. His last run had been made.

Mr. Malley and Miss Bertha E. Eisele were wedded at Hannibal, May 4, 1886. The bride was the daughter of Albert Eisele, one of the pioneer settlers of Hannibal, an extensive contractor and one of the builders of the Hannibal & St. Joseph railroad. The married life of the couple proved an ideally happy one and they reared three children. The children are Dr. John A. Malley, practicing his profession at Monroe City, Mo., Charles P. Malley, employed by the Otis Elevator Co., and Miss Bertha K. Malley at home. The family moved to Quincy from Hannibal twenty-nine years ago, and soon after arrival moved to the pleasant residence at Fifth and Maple, that has since been their home."

HIGH SCHOOL PLAY.
"She Stoops to Conquer." Monday eve, April 3d, at 8:15.

PROGRAM HAS SPEED

AND VARIETY
The two merits which the American public like most—variety and pace—are prominent with all the other qualities of a minstrel performance in the program this season of the Al. G. Field Greater Minstrels, who are coming to the Grand Thursday.

It opens with a burrah, when the scene shows, instead of the customary minstrel "first part" the love at New Orleans. The steamboats, "Robert E. Lee" and the "Natchez," are preparing for their historic race, and all the hustle and bustle of the wharf are reproduced. Then a flash of the race—a swift change, and the interior of the Robert E. Lee salon is on view, and here the minstrel "first part" is given.

The dancing spectacle follows, gorgeous in costumes and scenic effects and exhibiting in the movements.

MR. HADEN WILL REMAIN.

Information from Springfield yesterday was to the effect that the state board of administration has determined to continue James Haden in his present position at the State School for the Deaf. It was announced a week ago that the position had been abolished, the order to take effect April 1. Subsequently it was brought to the attention of the board that Mr. Haden had been in the service of the state for thirty-five years and that his service had been of the most faithful kind. Moreover, it is not possible to get along without a yardman at the school and the board took the wise action of rescinding the former order.

FOR COMMISSIONER.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for re-election as road commissioner, road district No. 8. Election April 4.

METHODIST MINISTERS CLOSE SPRING DISTRICT MEETING

Next Conference Will be Held in Palmyra—Suggestions for General Conference Legislation Discussed and Letters of Sympathy Sent.

Interesting discussion of legislation which will come before the general conference at Saratoga N. Y., next May, took place Tuesday morning at the closing session of ministers and laymen of Jacksonville district, Methodist Episcopal church, Tuesday forenoon at Brooklyn M. E. church. It was decided to hold the next district conference in Palmyra. In considering the proposed union of Methodism, the difficulties standing in the way of union between the northern and southern branches of the church were mentioned. The Methodist church South, it seems, does not see fit to receive into a united organization the 350,000 negroes who hold membership in the church in the north. This topic was treated by the Rev. H. H. Sherman.

The Rev. W. H. McGhee of White Hall spoke on "The Episcopal Residential Area," and the Rev. C. H. Davis in presenting the subject, "Consolidation of Church Boards," mentioned advantages to be derived from the substitution of a unified or correlated board for the present condition of unsystematic diversity where a separate board of fifty or more members is required for every form of church activity.

In resolutions adopted by the conference thanks were extended to the pastor and people of Brooklyn M. E. church, to the Rev. John Springer to Dr. Appleton Bash of Pittsburgh conference, to Rex J. Moon for special music, and to F. A. McCarty, district superintendent, for excellence of the program provided. Letters of sympathy were sent to Mrs. Jane Wood, mother of the late Rev. Preston Wood; Mrs. W. P. Bowman of Concord, whose mother, Mrs. Martha Dimmitt, passed away last week; Mrs. E. S. Vorbeck of Franklin, who remains very ill; Mrs. J. P. Dimmitt of Jacksonville, also ill; and the Rev. W. N. Cobb of Danville district, who recently suffered a general failure of health.

CITY MUST PAY PORTION ON STATE STREET PAVING

Assessment is Just Same as Against Individual Property Owners—Curb and Gutter Add Little to Paving Cost.

Altho the hearing for the West State street pavement has not been had in the county court, the proposed improvement is frequently discussed. The idea has prevailed in some quarters that in spreading the assessment no charge was made against the city on account of Duncan Park or for the portion of the pavement abutting the high school property. This is not the case, as this frontage was assessed in just the same proportion as the remainder of the street. The city's assessment on account of Duncan Park is $2,887.14, and the cost to the board of education for the paving of the street in front of the high school is $1,180.

Public Engineer Henderson has recently compiled some figures to show the difference in cost to property owners if curb and gutter is used or if the present sandstone curb be left. These figures indicate that the increased cost of the curb and gutter plan is but 16 cents per lined foot. The reason is that the concrete curb provides for a gutter also and the concrete thus used costs less than the same amount of surface construction of either brick or asphalt, and this difference is therefore deducted from the cost of the sandstone curb and brick or asphalt paving of the same surface as that which would be occupied by the gutter. The figures also show that the increased cost for asphalt over brick to the owner of a 60 ft. lot is something less than $40. These statements have been made by the engineer in answering complaints made because of the alleged excessive cost.

MRS. H. C. WISWELL DEAD AT HOME NEAR ROCHEPORT, MISSOURI

Telegram to W. F. Brown Brought Information Tuesday—Deceased Was Daughter of Late Judge William Brown.

A telegram received yesterday by W. Finley Brown of 954 West Lafayette avenue brought news of the death of his sister, Mrs. Mary Esther Wiswell, at her home near Rocheport, Mo. Mrs. Wiswell had been in failing health for a number of months and her death was not unexpected. The deceased was a daughter of the late Judge and Mrs. William Brown of this city and was born here seventy-three years ago. The family home at that time was on East State street and a few years later Judge Brown acquired what was afterward the Greenleaf home on West State street. The deceased graduated from the Jacksonville female academy in 1861 and in 1864 she was married to Henry C. Wiswell, a son of Thomas and Samantha Wiswell, also well known residents of Morgan county. The Wiswell home was for a time in the south part of the city and later at the corner of West State and Westminster streets. Mr. and Mrs. Wiswell in their early married life acquired the property on Mound avenue, now occupied by Judge and Mrs. T. H. Orear. Their home was afterward near New Berlin and subsequently they became residents of Missouri.

Mrs. Wiswell was a member of the Methodist church and was actively interested in religious work. She was a woman of rare spirit and refinement and her character was such that she held a very warm place in the affections of all those who came in contact with her.

The deceased leaves eight children, Mrs. Edwin Smith, Mrs. Grant Mason, Mrs. J. P. Smith, William, Thomas, Henry, Charles and Jeanette Wiswell. A brother, William Finley Brown, of this city, and a sister, Mrs. H. P. Dillon, of Topeka, Kan., also survive.

Funeral services will be held at the home near Rocheport and the remains will be brought here for interment. A brief service will be held at the home of W. F. Brown.

MEXICAN LETTERS VARY FROM PRESS NEWS

Mrs. E. S. Raber, who is making an extended visit with Mrs. D. E. Browning at her home on Mound avenue, has received within recent days two letters written by Mr. Raber, who is in charge of an extensive water power plant in Mexico. Both letters indicate that while there is considerable unrest in Mexico and conditions are not normal, that there is nowhere the amount of excitement that is indicated by press dispatches from the border. Letters from Mexico are so carefully censored that complete details could not be given but the general tenor of the letters was such that Mrs. Raber feels much less anxiety for the safety of her husband than would be true if her idea of the situation were gained only thru the papers.

ROODHOUSE BUSINESS MEN TO CANVASS FOR STREET OILING

Matter Is Taken Up at Meeting of Business Men's Association—Mrs. Curtis Settles Dies—Other Roodhouse News.

Roodhouse, Ill., March 28.—At a recent meeting of the Roodhouse Business Men's association the question of oiling the streets in the business and residence section of the city was taken up and William H. Cocking of Jacksonville was present to submit bids on the project.

Last year the streets in the business section of the city were treated with oil and there was considerable difference of opinion as to the success of the work. At this last meeting the matter was freely discussed and a committee composed of George E. Bundy and Frank Merrill was appointed to make a canvass of the city to find out the real sentiment of the residents and see whether the work can be done by private subscription. It seems almost certain that the streets in the business section will be oiled this year, whether or not those in the residence section are treated.

S. P. McCracken and A. H. Cain were appointed on a committee to arrange for clean-up week, the dates to be set later.

The business men also took up the matter of securing the Tri-County athletic meet for Roodhouse again this year and named Frank Merrill and W. W. Wharton a committee to take up the matter.

Mrs. Curtis Settles Dies. Mrs. Curtis Settles, aged 32 years, died at her home here this morning at 10:15 o'clock. Mrs. Settles had been a sufferer from heart trouble for some time and died quite suddenly Tuesday morning. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred O. VanTuyke, who reside north of Roodhouse and is survived by her husband and three children.

Funeral services will be held at the late residence Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock and interment will be made in the Fernwood cemetery.

Expect Changes in Schedule. It is expected that a meeting of the Chicago & Alton officials will be held in Chicago tomorrow for the purpose of taking up the matter of issuing a new time card for the road. While nothing definite is known regarding the matter it is expected here that when the new card is issued No. 11, the south bound Chicago-Kansas City passenger, which comes thru Jacksonville at 3:30 a. m., will be taken off and a new train from Springfield to Kansas City be put on in its stead. It is also understood that a train from Chicago to Roodhouse, via Springfield and the air line, will be placed on the new card and that the Bloomington-Springfield train now in service will be run from Bloomington to Roodhouse. Should these changes be made it will add two more passenger trains to those now running thru this terminal.

May Have Public Playground.

For some time there has been considerable agitation in Roodhouse for a public playground, but up to this time no suitable location could be secured. The Eli Bridge company, which owns the lot at the corner of Railroad and West Main streets, has donated the use of the property for the coming summer for a playground and it is the expectation that the apparatus will be installed at an early date.

K. work next Monday night and a special dispensation was secured to enable him to secure the three ranks in one night.

Supper was served at 6 o'clock and this was followed by a smoker and brief social hour. The committee in charge of the supper consisted of J. F. Kellogg, L. T. Potter, H. C. White, Clarence Massey and John Selbert. There were a number of visitors present from Favorite Lodge No. 376.

DISEASE HAS DISAPPEARED.

Dr. Servatius, inspector for the animal husbandry department of the government, who has been in Jacksonville and vicinity for some weeks, said yesterday that the situation is very hopeful with reference to the foot and mouth disease. No new cases have been reported for a considerable period, altho the department still has some men stationed about the state watching for any reappearance. It is likely that all quarantine restrictions can be removed within a few months' time.
